Thomas F. Bayard, elected to succeed Senator du Pont, was here ready to take the oath of office. He was told by Vice-President Coolidge that the oath would be administered to-morrow.

Senator-elect Brookhart (Ia.) thick-set, square jawed, broad shouldered, was also here, but said he would not be able to present his credentials until after November 27, when the canvass of the votes cast in the last election in Iowa are completed. Under the Iowa law, he is not entitled to credentials until after November 27, when the canvass of the votes cast in the last election in Iowa are completed.

ASKS WAR DEBTORS BE GIVEN 66 YEARS

Commercial Congress Head Submits Specific Plan of Amortization.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20.—The head of the Commercial Congress, which is now in session here, today submitted a specific plan of amortization of the interrelated debts and German reparations which, if adopted, would cancel all debts in sixty-six years by the payment of interest and an additional one-half of 1 per cent. on principal annually was presented to the Southern Commercial Congress in session here to-day.

This plan was evolved by Dr. Clarence J. Owens, president of the congress, and his associates from material collected by the International Trade Commission, which investigated conditions in most European countries, and is to be submitted to President Harding and Secretary Mellon.

Dr. Owens said it was the opinion of the International Trade Commission that the period of amortization should be fixed for at least five years and that the debt should be amortized over a long period of years.

The idea of amortization was first obtained from Europe in 1913. Dr. Owens said, and incorporated in the plan. The plan provided that the debt should be amortized over a period of 66 years, with annual payments of $1,000,000,000.

SENATE LEADERS FOR DAY ROSE A WOMAN FOR DAY

Mrs. Felton of Georgia Applauded From Galleries—Decision To-day—Senator-Elect Withholds Credentials Out of Courtesy Pending Action.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20.—Mrs. Rebecca Lattimore Felton of Georgia will not know until to-morrow whether she will be permitted to take a seat in the Senate for a day or two as successor to the late Thomas E. Watson. Mrs. Felton is the first woman seated in that body. Senate leaders favor accepting Mrs. Felton's credentials, but say a protest from an anti-suffragist Senator might cause complications.

Carrying her credentials, Mrs. Felton appeared in the Senate Chamber at 10:30. She was escorted by former Senator Hoke Smith, Judge Walter E. George elected November 7, to succeed Senator Watson also is here with credentials, but does not intend to present them until the Senate has acted in Mrs. Felton's case.

Mrs. Felton, on the floor of the Senate, was applauded loudly from the galleries. Mrs. Felton threw kisses. She was dressed in a black silk gown trimmed with a white collar of rare old point lace.

After greeting Senators and Senators-elect Mrs. Felton went into one of the reception rooms and received a bouquet of eighty-six roses from suffrage friends.

Just before time for the Senate to convene Mrs. Felton took the seat assigned to her in the Senate Chamber, next to that occupied by Senator Harris (Ga.).

Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck of Illinois received similar homage in the House. She took the oath of office as the Republican member of the House.

Carrying her credentials, Mrs. Huck appeared in the House Chamber at 10:30. She was escorted by former Senator Hoke Smith, Judge Walter E. George elected November 7, to succeed Senator Watson also is here with credentials, but does not intend to present them until the Senate has acted in Mrs. Felton's case.

BANKS SUBJECT TO LIBERTY BOND TAX

High Court Rules on Loan Paper Held by National Institutions.

ALL EXEMPTIONS REMAIN

Decision Merely Reiterates Terms of Laws Authorizing Various Issues.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20.—The United States Supreme Court today sustained a decision of the Supreme Court of Oklahoma which held that Liberty bonds held by national banks within the State are taxable for State purposes.

The Supreme Court merely affirmed the decision of the lower court no written opinion being handed down.

The legislation providing for the various issues of Liberty and Victory bonds and notes specifically set forth the extent to which such issues and each class is free from taxation.

Some of the bonds and notes are exempt from all taxation, Federal, State and local. These include the Liberty bonds and notes issued for the purpose of raising money for the war, and the Victory bonds and notes issued for the purpose of raising money for the war.

The Supreme Court held that the Liberty bonds and notes issued for the purpose of raising money for the war, and the Victory bonds and notes issued for the purpose of raising money for the war, are exempt from all taxation, Federal, State and local.

gentlemen as forecasters of the future to watch Clemenceau.

"He has come here with the purest of patriotic motives to relieve the irritation and tension which unhappily exists at the present time between the United States and European countries, especially with France, with which country we ought at all times to be on the most cordial and brotherly terms. We owe everything to France."

Some one asked Dr. Depew if he thought Clemenceau, as he visited American cities, would sway his audience.

"I have been studying this question sixty or seventy years," he answered with a laugh, "and I'll be hanged if I know. What does sway? It may be some great issue or it may be because a man is fortunate enough to be called 'Al.'"

The two veterans had never seen each other before. Depew came to New York from Peckskill about the time that Clemenceau came from France a young man. "Strange we never met then," says Depew.

From Onion Soup On.

Clemenceau again breakfasted with the dean yesterday. It was onion soup, hard boiled eggs and bread this time. In the library Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Gibson, at whose home he is staying, and his secretary worked over the notes for the speech. He has kept Col. House, Frank L. York and other House leaders running down references. Among the books he has consulted are speeches of President Wilson and Col. Roosevelt. But when he comes to the library he dismisses serious thought. His greeting at this stage yesterday was:

"I have been thinking that American women are more beautiful than they were when I was here more than fifty years ago. I didn't think they could be improved, but so it is."

Whitney Warren, American architect well known in France, called. A Canadian newspaper man, W. J. Morton, came to invite the Frenchman to go to Canada as the guest of a Canadian paper. Clemenceau said he was sorry, but he had to go to the States.

Next appeared a physician, Dr. Francis Clero of Morristown, N. J., an old friend. Clemenceau met him with, "Don't talk to me about medicine; otherwise I'll shoot you." At Dr. Clero's suggestion, they drove together to the office of Dr. Frederick M. Allen and Dr. J. W. Sherrill, 600 Park avenue, whose specialty is the treatment of diabetes. Clemenceau has suffered from a mild form of this trouble for nearly ten years. Dr. Allen is at the Psychiatric Institute in Morristown, which he directs. Clemenceau was examined by Dr. Sherrill. There was jocosity in his manner at this time. He wanted to ascertain just where he stood as to his health, with special reference to the trip ahead of him. He spent nearly an hour with the physician. Dr. Sherrill said later that he had made no general examination, but had applied the simple lung and heart tests, as well as detailed tests for the diabetic, and had observed that the visitor's condition was very good for a man of his age. A sample of blood was taken for examination.

TWO PLEBS RESIGN AS HAZING TRIALS END

One Feared Reprisals for Testimony—Secret Verdict.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 20.—The hazing courts-martial came to an end today with the trial of Midshipman Francis W. Laurant of Wisconsin charged with hazing Fourth Classman Undell B. Allen, Jr., of Oklahoma. The court reached a finding late this afternoon, which it did not announce. It is customary in cases of acquittal to inform the accused.

Not only did Laurant deny he had hazed Allen but his three room mates said they never had seen anybody hazed in the room, and that they never had seen Allen in there.

The defense sought to show by Laurant and other witnesses that the accused had corrected Allen in regard to his conduct at the table, thus forming a possible motive for being by Allen against the upper classman.

The resignations of Allen and Midshipman George M. Lord were accepted today. Allen, an upper classman, had informed him that he was being given testimony upon which members of the first class would probably be dismissed, life in the academy and afterward in "service would be made unbearable for him."

LIBERTY BONDS DECISION ONLY CONFIRMS CUSTOM

Upholds Law in This and Other States.

The market for Liberty bonds was not affected by the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the appeal of the People's National Bank of Kingsfisher, Okla. First dispatches from Washington did not explain the decision clearly and gave the impression that the ruling referred to income from Liberty bonds. This caused considerable comment in banking circles until it was realized that such could not be the case, as Liberty bonds are exempt from the Federal income tax.

Most of the large banks in Wall Street wired to Washington for a full text of the decision. After study of the bankers expressed the opinion the Supreme Court was only reiterating a law generally applied in all States. That a bank in Oklahoma has seen fit to test the law was regarded as of little importance.

In New York the right to tax Liberty bonds owned by banks never has been questioned. The power also has been exercised in other States. The decision is generally conceded that banks are not entitled to any deduction in taxes on money invested in Liberty bonds. The theory that the ruling would cause banks to switch from Liberty bonds to municipal bonds was scouted, particularly as the ruling by the Supreme Court specifies "Liberty bonds or other forms of tax exempt securities."

DEACON DENIES KLAN ACTIVITY IN CALVARY

E. C. Miller Says Reports Are 'Fabrications.'

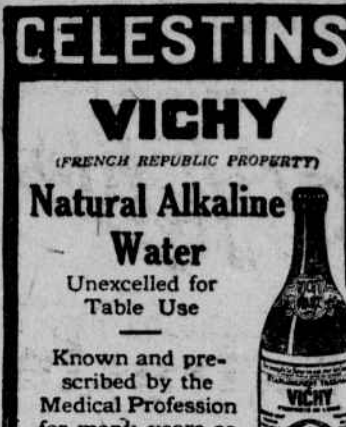

Edward C. Miller, head deacon and trustee of the Calvary Baptist Church, denied yesterday that any solicitation for membership in the Ku Klux Klan had been made in the church or that circulars in behalf of the Klan were handed out to members of the church so far as he knew. He said the report that such a thing had taken place was "a fabrication, pure and simple."

Mr. Miller also denied that the Evangelical Protestant Society, of which he is president, is in any way associated with the Ku Klux Klan, but let it be known that he and the society regarded the Klan as "100 per cent. American."

Mr. Miller admitted that he had been invited to become a member of the Ku Klux Klan, but he had declined. He said he had not received any circulars in behalf of the Klan, but that he had received a letter from a member of the Calvary Baptist Church who was a member of the Klan, but that the subject of the Klan was not discussed with him.

Col. William Hayward, United States Attorney, said no complaint regarding the Ku Klux Klan has come to his office and he had heard nothing regarding their activities recently except from the press. He said he had not received any circulars in behalf of the Klan, but that he had received a letter from a member of the Calvary Baptist Church who was a member of the Klan, but that the subject of the Klan was not discussed with him.

CONSIDERS 12 MEN FOR NEWBERRY'S SEAT

Michigan Governor Will Not Strengthen Own Chances.

DETROIT, Nov. 20.—Twelve men prominent in Michigan were considered to-day by Gov. Alexander J. Groesbeck seeking a successor to Truman H. Newberry, who resigned as United States Senator Sunday.

The Governor said he will give everyone interested an opportunity to be heard and that he did not intend to have Michigan represented in the upper house of Congress by a "figurehead."

"It has been said," the Governor said, "that I should appoint some one who will not run for re-election in 1924, so I can run myself. I will do no such thing."

The names heard most to-day were those of Charles B. Warren, American Ambassador to Japan; William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids, former Senator; W. H. B. Smith, former Senator; John S. Hagerity, Wayne County Republican leader, and Darion Leroy Burton, president of the University of Michigan.

KU KLUX IN CHURCH GIVE PREACHER $100

Men in Regalia March to Pulpit During Sermon.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

PECKSKILL, N.Y., Nov. 20.—The Rev. G. C. Winter, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was about half through with his sermon last night when four figures wearing the regalia of the Ku Klux Klan marched up the aisle and handed him a package and a letter. The four figures then marched out.

After the sermon Dr. Winter opened the package and found that it contained five $20 gold pieces. The letter said: "The Unseen Eye has seen and observed your good work for the service of Christ in Peckskill. The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan stand to a man behind and endorse the efforts of men like you who preach the true light of humanity. Yours in the sacred, unending bond, the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan."

"We were here yesterday; we were here to-day; we will be here forever," Mr. Gilbert after reading the letter said. "It impressed a very nice sentiment." He would not say, however, what was his attitude toward the Klan and its generally avowed purposes.

LA GUARDIA ELECTION TO BE TESTED TO-DAY

Canvassers So Far Verify Count by Police.

The official canvass of the election vote in the Twentieth Congressional district to-day. That district is disputed by Henry Frank, who lost by 224 votes to F. H. La Guardia. Frank last night said he was confident the official count would show him elected. He has accused La Guardia of fraud.
